

Transatlantic Water Symposium

Cook Conference Center, Louisiana State University
March 31 & April 1, 2008

got water ?

The TransAtlantic Water Symposium is a 2-day Symposium organized by the Center for Microscale Ecosystems, University of Duisburg-Essen, Germany, and Louisiana State University. It gathers leading thinkers from both sides of the Atlantic to exchange research & develop new initiatives. All are invited to attend.

Roundtable Sessions:

- Water Treatment: Future Solutions
- Indicators of Water Quality: Emerging Aspects
- Ecosystem Health: The Parasite Problem
- Biofilms: Nature at Work

Poster Session & Reception to follow

Key note Speeches: "To Drown or to Dry Up – Global Change & Local Challenge"
To view the full conference program visit www.ConRuhr.org

