The University of Duisburg-Essen

Broad base, strong peaks.
In the heart of Europe
Campus Locations

Duisburg
- 502,694 inhabitants
- the most important steel production site in Europe
- logistical centre of Germany, with the largest inland port in Europe
- home of the Wilhelm Lehmbruck-Museum

Essen
- 590,099 inhabitants
- the cultural and economical centre of the Rhine-Ruhr region as well as a hotspot of the service industries
- European Capital of Culture RUHR.2010
- European Green Capital 2017
Good Connections

- a special shuttle bus travels the 20-km distance between the campuses
- the campuses in Essen and Duisburg are connected by the "Ruhr Bicycle Expressway", the last section of which is currently under construction
- motorists take Route A40, traditionally known as the "Ruhr Expressway"
Overview

History

- August 1, 1972
  foundation of two universities (Gesamthochschulen) in the cities Duisburg and Essen

- January 1, 2003
  merger of the two universities and foundation of the University of Duisburg-Essen (UDE)

- March 12, 2007
  foundation of the University Alliance Ruhr (UA Ruhr), a strategic research alliance with neighboring universities

- 2019
  UDE holds place 14 in the Times Higher Education Ranking of the world’s 250 best young universities and ranks first among the German universities evaluated. (Source: THE-250 rankings under 50)
Overview

Open-Minded

We are one of the youngest universities in Germany and have a fresh way of looking at things. We think in terms of unlimited possibilities instead of possible limitations. Located in the heart of the Ruhr metropolis, we have 11 faculties working to develop ideas with a future. We are strong on research and teaching, embrace diversity, promote academic potential and fight for genuine educational equality.

Research
Main Research Areas

- Nanosciences
- Biomedical Sciences
- Urban Systems
- Transformation of Contemporary Societies
- Water Research
Main Research Areas

Nanosciences

- development of nanostructured functional materials for a broad range of applications in a high-tech research center, special focus on applications in the energy sector
- more than 60 research groups comprising approx. 350 scientists from the fields of chemistry, physics, medicine and the engineering sciences are participating, among other things, in collaborative research centres, research training groups and numerous cooperative ventures with industry
- bachelor’s and master’s programmes in nanoengineering

Main Research Areas

Biomedical Sciences

- new diagnostic methods and treatments are being developed in cooperative interdisciplinary projects
- connect the medical research at the Essen University Hospital and the Erwin L. Hahn Institute with the basic scientific research at the Centre for Medical Biotechnology (ZMB)
- the B.Sc. programme in medical biology is in especially high demand with 2,700 applicants yearly

Main Research Areas

Urban Systems

- in rapidly urbanising (as well as in shrinking) regions, climate mitigation and adaptation, conservation of natural resources, etc. are important issues
- located in one of the largest heavily populated areas in Europe, all 11 UDE faculties are conducting research to find multi-layered solutions to the problems facing the urban world today
- the Joint Centre aims to establish a leading European centre for broad-based urban research, with international visibility, involved in the instruction and training of the next generation of scientists

- patterns of order in society are modified by the displacement, disappearance and persistence of borders between people, nations, markets, etc.
- the multidisciplinary research being carried out by the six institutes at the UDE connects the fields of sociology, educational science, economic science, political science and other disciplines
- Käte Hamburger Kolleg/Centre for Global Cooperation Research

Main Research Areas

Water Research

- A sustainable and global water cycle is one of the greatest social challenges of our time.
- How can we succeed in ensuring that water and sanitation facilities are available to all people and that this precious resource is managed sustainably?
- Topics among others: Water treatment and purification, biodiversity and environmental consequences of heavy rainfall

German Research Foundation (DFG) Programmes

- 21 Collaborative research centres SFB/TR
  (4 lead institution and 17 participating university)
in Biochemistry, Medicine, Physics and Mathematics and Engineering

- 11 Research training groups
  (6 lead institution and 5 participating university)
in Medical Biotechnology, Infectious Diseases, History, Radiobiology, East Asian Studies, Biomedicine and Social Media plus one participation in Mathematics

- 16 Research units
  (5 lead institution and 11 participating university)
in Engineering, Biology, Social Science, Medicine, Physics and Educational Research

- 33 Priority programmes
  (5 lead institution and 28 participating university)
in Chemistry, Engineering, Mathematics, Mechanics, Medicine, Educational Research Nanosciences
Research Centres

- Center for Nanointegration Duisburg-Essen (CENIDE)
- Centre for Computational Sciences and Simulation (CCSS)
- Centre for Logistics and Traffic (ZLV)
- Centre for Medical Biotechnology (ZMB)
- Centre for Water and Environmental Research (ZWU)
- Erwin L. Hahn Institute for Magnetic Resonance Imaging (ELH) with the Radboud University Nijmegen

Network
University Alliance Ruhr (UA Ruhr)

Unlimited possibilities: The alliance connects the universities of Bochum, Dortmund and Duisburg-Essen. It was founded in 2007 and has today

- more than 500 study courses, 120,000 students and 1,300 professors
- more than 16,000 graduates and 1,300 doctorates yearly
- about 1.4 milliards Euro budget volume yearly
- about 300 millions Euro third-party funds yearly

Joint Research Centres
- KWI Institute for Advanced Study in the Humanities Essen
- Alliance for Research on East Asia (AREA Ruhr)

Joint Main Research Areas
- Materials Chain
- Ruhr Explores Solvation (RESOLV)

AURORA...

- is a network of 8 universities (Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam, Université Grenoble-Alpes, University of Aberdeen, University of Antwerp, University of Bergen, University of Duisburg-Essen, University of East Anglia, University of Gothenburg, University of Iceland)
- universities are excellent in research and dedicated to social responsibility and diversity
- connects societal impact and relevance of research
- means learning from trusted partners
99 active partnerships worldwide
Information and Counselling

- Center for Higher Education and Quality Development
  more than 100 services for quality assurance, teaching and learning

- Centre for Information and Media Services with 30,000 interconnected systems

- Centre for Teacher Education
  2,500 work placements registered per year

- Student Counselling and Academic Career Services with more than 18,500 annual contacts

- University Library
  with 2,4 million print volumes

- University Sports
  1,500 courses per year
For the general public

Offers for everyone

- Mercator-Professorship
  e.g. Richard von Weizsäcker, Christiane Nüsslein-Volhard, Alice Schwarzer, Götz Werner, Margarethe von Trotta, Karl Kardinal Lehmann, Alfred Grosser, Joachim Gauck
