

ENGLISH LANGUAGE MOVIE SOCIETY

April 15

DON JON (2013)

Jersey guy must overcome his porn-inspired expectations to find a genuine happy end (90 Minutes)

April 29

FROZEN (2013)

The best Disney film since the Lion King - with music to match! (102 Minutes)

May 13

PRISONERS (2013)

When his daughter goes missing, how many lines will one man cross to get her back in this edge-of-your-seat thriller? (153 Minutes)

May 27

12 YEARS A SLAVE (2013)

A free black man from the North is kidnapped and sold into slavery in this Oscar-winning drama (134 Minutes)

June 24

NEBRASKA (2013)

this dramatic comedy a son accompanies his father on an eccentric quest to claim his supposed million dollar lottery win (115 Minutes)

July 8

PACIFIC RIM (2013)

Complex plot? No. Complex characters? Nope. Giant monsters fighting giant robots? Hell yes! (131 Minutes)

The Department of Anglophone Studies kindly invites you to join its English Language Movie Society! It's a great opportunity to meet new people, watch movies in their original version and socialize in English! All students (of all departments) are welcome and admission is free! All you have to do is show up!

All films will be shown as follows:

Tuesdays 18 - 20h

R11 T00 D05

(entrance in the lobby to the main library)

Questions or Suggestions? Contact Adam von Wald or Dietmar Meinel at elms@uni-due.de

Or visit us on Facebook under "English Language Movie Society (ELMS)"