

Call for PhD Student Scholarship

The Chair of Korean Politics and Society offers a scholarship for PhD students at the University of Duisburg-Essen, Institute of East Asian Studies as part of the project „Strengthening Social Science-based Korean Studies Research and Education in Germany” supported by the Academy of Korean Studies’ KSPS.

Starting date: 1 March 2024

Target group

- Students in the MA degree programmes Contemporary East Asian Studies (CEAS) and Modern East Asian Studies (MEAS)

We offer

- a monthly stipend (1.500 €) for twelve months (or until the submission of thesis)
- great opportunities for exchanging ideas and thoughts at annual events with inhouse and external scholars in the field of Korean studies

You are expected

- to participate in extracurricular academic events at UDE related to Korean studies
- to regularly consult with your supervisor
- to seriously dedicate to your studies and preparation of your PhD thesis

Your profile

- You hold an MA degree (or have submitted your thesis) in a discipline relevant to Korean studies
- You have a strong interest and a clear proposal for your PhD project in the field of Korean studies.
- You will write your PhD thesis under the supervision of Prof. Mosler.
- Good written and oral skills in English and a fair command of Korean is a plus.

Required documents (as one PDF file):

- Cover letter including a statement of motivation (Why do you need the support?)
- CV
- Current proof of enrollment (aktuelle Studienbescheinigung)
- Transcript of records

Due date

- 1 December 2023

Applications should be sent by e-mail to Prof. Dr. Hannes B. Mosler (hannes.mosler@uni-due.de).
