MA MEAS

MASTER PROGRAM
MODERN EAST ASIAN STUDIES

CONCEPT OF THE MA MEAS / MEAS+1 PROGRAM

The Master Program Modern East Asian Studies is an English-taught degree program for BA graduates of East Asian Regional Studies programs with profound knowledge of an East Asian language (Chinese, Japanese, or Korean). Depending on skills in the Social and Economic Sciences or Regional Studies, an adjustment year might be required.

The MEAS program aims to train students in the theoretical and problem-centred analysis of social, political and economic phenomena in East Asia (PR China, Taiwan, Korea, Japan). The program's objective is to deepen and enrich the student's ability to assess contemporary change, the challenges for the East Asian region, and the implications of such developments for Europe on the basis of strong language competencies (in Chinese, Japanese, or Korean) and a sound knowledge in disciplinary methods and theories.

For students who have no Chinese, Japanese, or Korean Studies background but a strong disciplinary background in the Social and Economic Sciences, we offer the MA CEAS program (Contemporary East Asian Studies, see www.in-east.de/study\_programs).

PROSPECTS

Students completing the MA degree will be prepared

- for further studies at the doctoral level,
- for high-level positions in multinational corporations, in politics – including political consulting –, governmental and non-governmental think-tanks, and international organisations where intensive knowledge of East Asia and language competency is in high demand.

Our institute offers opportunities to continue studies in a PhD program.
