The Fellowship Program

The Israel Public Policy Institute (IPPI) offers young leaders from Germany an opportunity to participate in a Fellowship program in Israel in cooperation with the Israeli Institute for National Security Studies and the Heinrich Böll Foundation on the theme: “Rethinking Security in the 21st Century: German-Israeli Perspectives”.

As part of the program, the Fellows will be required to compose a policy paper pertaining to a security challenge common to both countries; the Fellows will be able to draw on the pool of partners of the IPPI and familiarize themselves with relevant actors in the country.

The program provides the Fellows with an opportunity to work side by side with some of Israel’s leading policy experts in the field of security and gain firsthand professional experience while learning about the central challenges facing the country.
